Dr. Matt Bellace

Delivering Better Highs and Healthier Lows

Audience: Grades 3rd through 12th

Topics Covered:

- Natural highs
- Coping Mechanisms
- Impact of substance use on brain development
- Increasing self esteem

Dr. Bellace has a PhD in clinical psychology with a subspecialty in clinical neuropsychology, the study of the brain and behavior. He was twice awarded the Student Intramural Research and Training Award (IRTA) in neuroscience by the National Institutes of Mental Health. His clinical training included working with patients at the Comprehensive Epilepsy Center at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital (Philadelphia), assessing learning disorders in a pediatric neuropsychology private practice and performing cognitive behavioral therapy at Drexel University's Student Counseling Center.

Matt started out speaking to small groups at local high schools and colleges, but quickly grew to national conferences, professional organizations and the military. He has spoken in forty-eight US states, Canada and Switzerland. Annually, Matt's program reaches over 100,000 people.

As a stand-up comedian, Matt has performed at clubs and colleges across the country, including Gotham Comedy Club and The Comic Strip in New York City. Matt's comedy credits include truTV's hit show The World's Dumbest, the 2005 Just for Laughs Festival in Montreal, National Public Radio and The New York Times.

Matt is the author of the bestselling books A Better High (Wyatt MacKenzie, 2012), which is a humorous look at the comparison between natural highs and chemical highs. His most recent book uses humor to reimagine how we deal with pain, loss and failure, titled Life Is Disappointing and Other Inspiring Thoughts (Wyatt MacKenzie, 2021). He was a contributing author for the National Geographic Kids series This or That and online magazine Edutopia.

Robert Hackenson, Jr.

Don't Get Lectured, Get Entertained!

Audience: Kindergarten through 12th

Topics Covered:

- Vaping & Marijuana
- Drug, Alcohol & Tobacco
- Social media dangers & cyber safety
- Bullying prevention
- Building self esteem

Since 2004, Robert Hackenson, Jr. has traveled the globe speaking and keynoting for schools, colleges, organizations and corporations. As a professional youth motivational speaker, Robert is effective at conveying important educational messages through his ability to engage and relate to students. He has been doing this for a decade with students (grades k-12), parents, and professional educators.

Robert's highly interactive performances speak with your students instead of at them, keeps their attention, and delivers relevant messages. He uniquely infuses educational lecture with magic, illusions, stories, and more! This not only keeps your students captivated, but everything he does is used in a way to reinforce the educational lessons.

Robert's presentation topics include: "Bullying Prevention," "Social Media Dangers & Cyber Safety," "Drug, Alcohol & Tobacco Awareness (Sober Thoughts)," "Moving Up to New School," and "Vaping & Marijuana Awareness" to students, teachers and parents at elementary, middle schools, high schools and colleges.

Robb Holla

Empowering Students by Connecting with Them Where They Are

Audience: Grades 6th- 12th

Topics Covered:

- Vaping awareness
- Impact of substance use on brain development
- Cyber bullying & social media safety
- Truth in Marketing to Teens

Robb Holla's life story? It's the kind you'd expect him to be a failure. But, plot twist: he's now a leading light as an author, speaker, and youth motivator. It's solid proof that where you start doesn't lock in where you'll finish. Growing up was rough for Robb—dealing with a tricky speech impediment, recovering from serious burns as a toddler, and facing down bullies didn't hold him back. Instead, these challenges pushed him to make a big impact.

Here's the deal with Robb: he's got this incredible way of connecting with teenagers. He doesn't just talk at them; he gets on their level, makes them laugh, and leaves a mark that sticks. They don't just listen; they remember.

Robb Holla is everywhere—TV, radio, newspapers, you name it, making waves as the go-to guy for insights on teens and rocking the stage as a youth motivational speaker all over the US and Canada.

He gets it. Today's students live in a world where a tweet, a Facebook post, or a YouTube video can say it all. They've not just adapted to this digital age; they're reshaping it. And Robb? He's right there with them, pouring his heart into connecting and empowering students in ways that really resonate. Whether he's lighting up the stage in North America or dishing out advice as the teen expert everyone wants to hear from, Robb is all about making genuine connections.

And when he's not out there changing lives, Robb's soaking up life in Dallas, TX, surrounded by friends and family who keep the inspiration flowing.

Shawn Metz

You are Not Your Past - You are Who You Choose to Become

Audience: Grades 6th- 12th

Topics Covered:

- Substance Use Disorder (SUD)
- Dangers of vaping
- Consequences of addiction
- Peer pressure
- Importance of family
- Self Esteem Building.

In recovery from addiction since July 5, 2011, Shawn's mission is to inspire, redirect thinking, reroute choices and save lives. Through hundreds of compelling presentations at various facilities to serving on panels, Shawn reaches people in a way that insists they hear what he has to say. From teens thinking about drinking or getting high the first time to those who want to turn themselves around, his authentic, heartfelt, real-life story grabs your attention and makes a difference.

Shawn Metz is a captivating, motivational speaker determined to steer younger audiences against the inevitable dangers of substance abuse. Through instilling self-confidence in his listeners and the power of goal-oriented change, he retells his personal compelling story of the positive realities when one takes control of their own life.

With special emphasis on the severity of the growing epidemic of substance abuse, Shawn drives home the message that it's not only okay to leave the party, it's a matter of life and death. With nearly 20 million Americans, some as young as 12 years old, struggling with substance use disorder, Shawn tailors his message to fit his audience as he connects with young and old alike, bridging all socio and economic demographics to facilitate a positive change in people's perceptions, as well as how they think and act.

Mychal Mills and Rodney Salomon

Transforming Youth, Schools and Communities through Holistic Practices

Audience: Grades 3rd- 12th

Topics Covered:

- Holistic wellness
- Mindfulness
- SEL tools
- Self-regulation
- Strengthening relationships

Konscious Youth Development & Service (KYDS) is a 501c3 non-profit conscious youth development organization that transforms Youth, Schools and communities through holistic practices. KYDS was founded in the Fall of 2014 by Mychal Mills and Rodney Salomon, two passionate individuals looking to support the minds, bodies, and souls of the greater Asbury Park community and beyond.

Since it takes the transformation of entire communities to sustain the upliftment of our youth, KYDS also offers holistic wellness programming for school educators, administration, educators, parents, and the community. These practices have been shown to reduce stress, increase awareness, strengthen relationships, and make decisions that lead to positive outcomes.

Our programs help youth self-regulate to thrive and instill the ability for educators to be fully present with their students and their needs. This is how KYDS Evidence-Based programming has been positively transforming schools and communities since 2014!
